Contending with Difference at the Thanksgiving Table

Sunday, November 22 at 7:30pm via Zoom

As we move towards Thanksgiving in the aftermath of one of the most contentious elections in American history, the age-old minefield of politics at the Thanksgiving table has never been more alive.

Two models will be presented from our rabbinic sages for navigating conflict. What does Moshe and Aharon, Leverite marriage, and the Aleinu have to do with Thanksgiving shouting matches?

Bennett Decker (he/him) is a recent graduate of Columbia University and the Jewish Theological Seminary, where he studied Political Science and Talmud. He grew up in Elkins Park and was a student at Perelman Jewish Day School and Cheltenham High School. He currently works at T'ruah.
